University Model Learning

What is University Model learning? It is a learning environment where the children have direct instruction from a Texas Certified Educator twice a week, receive one on one and small group instruction in core classes (English Language Arts, Math, Science and Social Studies), and then spend their at home days working on expanding what they have learned from the instructor.

This environment is much less stressful than a typical classroom. It allows students to form a deeper bond with their educator, giving them the ability to feel more comfortable to ask questions when they do not understand. It also allows the educator to be one on one with them more often, so that needs are better met. Very specific assignments will be given for what is to be completed on their at home days.

Core subjects will be taught following state standards for each grade level and report cards will be given based on progress.

High rigor of academics based on the child's needs, building on their strengths and weaknesses.

Small group instruction, no more than 5 children.

Concerned about Covid? All necessary sanitation will take place. No masks will be worn, as it is important that children see their teacher's face.

Class will meet Tuesday/Thursday from noon – 4pm, beginning September 8th, 2020 at a home in Lake Dallas, Texas.
